

I follow what my parent said: to get into a good university to study engineering. I know I don't like what I am studying, but I am also not bad at it.

This is what I was meant to be.

